

A modern interior space featuring a wall with a repeating geometric pattern of small triangles. The ceiling has exposed wooden beams. To the right, a large window looks out onto a garden. In the foreground, there are two potted plants: a small green bush in a white pot and a taller plant with large green leaves in a grey pot. A set of wide, light-colored stone steps leads up to a platform where a wooden armchair is visible. The floor is made of large, light-colored tiles.
